

≡ Item Navigation

Introduction

In these two videos we will first describe the concept of vector space both deductively (by example) and inductively (by enunciating the axioms that regulate vector spaces). We will illustrate the properties that derive from the axiomatic definition of vector space and establish a correspondence between the different classes of discrete-time signals introduced in the previous module and an appropriate vector space.

✓ Completed

Go to next item

Like

Dislike

Report an issue