Lecture videos

Each module always starts with a reading that provides a short introduction of the module's general topic. The videos are then introduced and related to each other with a short introductory text. These video introductions should provide some context and help you figure out what you should be paying attention to. We've added these introductions because we wanted the videos to be as short and informative as possible. This means there is no time for small talk in the videos, we start discussing a topic right away! After the text introduction you are invited to watch the video.

Review

This section contains all the assignments for this module that will help you to review the material. You can also find the transcripts of the videos here, provided in pdf documents.
