Your grade: 100%

Your latest: 100% • Your highest: 100% • To pass you need at least 80%. We keep your highest score.

Next item →

1. Which term refers to identifying spans of text as named entities and recognizing their type? 1 / 1 point

- Attribute extraction
- (selected) Named entity recognition
- Relation identification
- Knowledge base population

Nice work

Correct! Named entity recognition identifies spans of text as entities and classifies their type.

2. In business news articles, which of the following is commonly extracted during information extraction? 1 / 1 point

- The background color of web pages
- The number of images on a page
- The number of hyperlinks in an article
- (selected) Company names and stock ticker symbols

Nice work

Correct! Company names and stock symbols are common fields of interest in business domains.

3. Which tool is best suited for extracting formatted fields like phone numbers or email addresses? 1 / 1 point

- Machine learning classifiers
- Summarization algorithms
- (selected) Regular expressions
- Tokenization algorithms

Nice work

Correct! Regular expressions are highly effective for extracting formatted fields.

4. Which of the following are common entity types in medical domain information extraction? (Choose all that apply.) 1 / 1 point

- The resolution of medical images
- Page margins of scanned documents
- (selected) Patient names and dates of encounter

Nice work

Correct! These are protected health information entities extracted for de-identification or clinical analysis.

- (selected) Names of diseases and conditions

Nice work

Correct! Disease and condition names are critical entities.

5. What does "slot filling" refer to in the context of information extraction? 1 / 1 point

- (selected) Filling predefined fields with extracted information
- Filling missing words in a text passage for language learning
- Formatting extracted data for visualization
- Removing unnecessary data from text

Nice work

Correct! Slot filling is the process of populating predefined fields (slots) with extracted information.

6. Which of the following can be considered a field of interest in information extraction? 1 / 1 point

- Page formatting styles
- (selected) Named entities like person names, locations, and organizations
- Font size of headings
- File metadata such as file size

Nice work

Correct! These are common fields of interest in information extraction.

7. Relation identification often involves identifying: 1 / 1 point

- Sentence boundaries
- (selected) Verbs acting on two entities
- The language of the document
- The length of paragraphs

Nice work

Correct! Relations are often expressed as verbs linking two entities.